UTAH STEELWORKERS: Help Protect Public Employees' Bargaining Power!

Collective bargaining is a fundamental right that allows workers to have a voice in their working conditions, ensuring they are treated fairly and with respect. It helps secure better wages, benefits, and workplace safety.

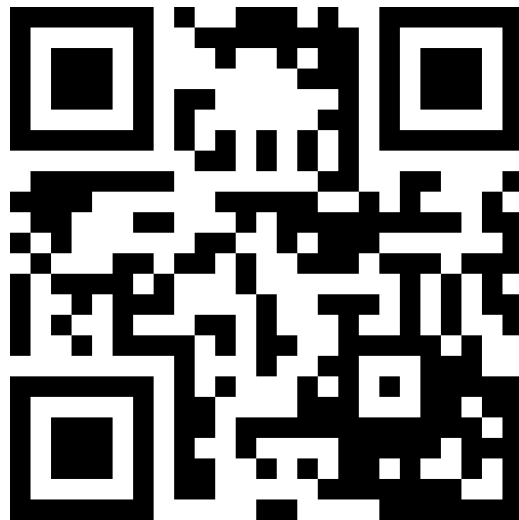

Unfortunately, in Utah, HB 267 was introduced to ban collective bargaining for public sector workers, including teachers, firefighters, transit drivers, and more. Without the ability to negotiate, these workers could face lower pay, fewer benefits, and less safe working conditions.

Opposing HB 267 is essential to safeguarding workers' rights and preserving their ability to negotiate for better conditions and fair treatment.
