

Steelworkers Give Back!

During last year's conference, we donated hundreds of care kits to The Community for Creative Non-Violence, formerly the Federal Center Shelter. Your donations were greatly appreciated. Since there was such warm appreciation and need, we have decided to make more care kits for donation to the same shelter. The Community for Creative Non-Violence is a 1,350-bed facility that ensures every person has access to life's basic essentials -- food, shelter, clothing and medical care.

Conference attendees can participate by bringing assigned items (by district) below to the conference. Items can be purchased in bulk at the suggested links. These items are made in the USA when possible. No one is required to buy from the provided links, but this will aid in uniformity in both quality and size. Note: no children's supplies are needed. This shelter does not service children.
