

February 20, 2025

Utah Governor Signs Bill Banning Public Sector Unions

Despite efforts by Steelworkers and our allies to prevent HB 267's passage, Utah Governor Spencer Cox signed it into law on February 14, 2025. As a refresher, HB 267 criminalizes collective bargaining for public sector workers, including teachers, firefighters, transit drivers, and other essential employees. It will take effect on July 1, 2025.

How did my elected official vote?

- To see how your State Representative voted, click here (usw.to/58c).
- To see how your State Senator voted, click here (usw.to/591).

What's next?

- Organized labor groups in Utah are already strategizing ways to lessen the harmful impact of the new law and explore legal avenues to reverse the decision.

“Despite our efforts to oppose this harmful legislation, today’s outcome is deeply disappointing. We knew from the start that this fight wouldn’t be easy, but we also knew it was crucial to stand up for the rights of public sector workers. We will continue to push back against efforts that undermine workers’ rights and fight for the fair treatment they deserve.”

– USW District 12 Director, Gaylan Prescott

For more information on this issue or how you can get more involved with Rapid Response, please contact District 12 Rapid Response Coordinator, Catherine Houston, at chouston@usw.org.